

Women's Empowerment Breakthrough Conference Counselor in Training (CIT) Application

Women's Empowerment Breakthrough Conference, a project of The Launch Pad

Teen Center, is a three-day leadership conference for teenage girls in Yavapai County. The conference has been volunteer run since its inception in 2003. Each year, WEB relies on the generosity of women in our community to dedicate their weekend to our shared belief that teenage girls are intelligent, powerful change makers, and our future.

The Counselor in Training Program is specifically created for girls aged 17-19 or seniors in high school who have attended the WEB conference as participants. CITs are also required to fill out the general conference registration form, as they are still considered participants and, if under 18, will need a parent or guardian signature.

The Counselor in Training Program is an opportunity for WEB girls to gain leadership experience. We take this position very seriously! As a CIT you will have the unique opportunity to serve a variety of roles. We will expect you to be their role-models and their teachers. In order for the WEB Conference to be successful, we need our counselors and our CITs to commit to being physically and emotionally present for the full three days. Please take this commitment seriously.
